With Your Host

Your Host is your next best new team member. Why? Well, you know she loves the products because she's booked a Jordan Party. You know she already feels some connection to you because she booked with YOU. You also know she has a network of friends and family because she booked a Jordan Party!

- During Host coaching, be sure to offer her this opportunity by sending her a social square by text or through PM to create interest.
- Then, when you speak to them in person, ASK!

“Hey Jessica, I sent you a text with an inflation-busting special for joining Jordan Essentials as a Consultant. Did you see that? I’d love to ask if you’ve ever considered a side-hustle recently? Here at Jordan Essentials, you can immediately earn 25% to 35% just by sharing the products that you love with your friends and family—for only $10 during the month of June.

And here’s the deal, we’re going to get bookings at your Jordan Party and I’d be happy to give them to you to help get your business started. What do you think?”

With a VIP Group Member and Business Page

Of course, you’re going to want to share the social square all over social media and there’s no better place to start than in your VIP Group and on your Business Page on Facebook. What do you say when someone is interested in learning more!

“Jessica, thanks for reaching out and asking for more information. Tell me, what excites you the most about this offer?”

“Yes, our products are amazing and I’m so happy you love them and want to share them with your friends and family. You know what’s super exciting? As soon as you join, you’re able to begin earning a minimum of 25% commission on every product you sell, so you can begin adding to your family budget right away! How does that sound to you?”

“When you think of earning some extra money, what amount sounds good to you?”

“Awesome! A few hundred dollars is a GREAT first goal. We can work together to put together a plan for you. How does that sound to you?”
