Let's Talk About Your Why

A “WHY” is the purpose, cause, or belief that motivates you and you alone. It is the driving force behind your decision to start on your Jordan Essentials journey. Your WHY will be very personal to you. Your WHY is what keeps you going on the good days and the days when things aren't so good (... they happen, right?).

Be curious with yourself as you reflect on your why. Channel your inner-toddler that continually questions, “but why” and “but why” and “but why” and dig deep into why you're motivated to be successful at Jordan Essentials.

LET'S REFLECT AND FIND YOUR WHY:

The reason I joined Jordan Essentials is:

My 'Why':

My personal and professional goals include:

Your WHY may come to you immediately or it may take some reflection. Once you've identified your why, it's YOURS. All YOURS. Own that WHY!! Keep in mind that your WHY will be something that you'll go back to over and over again often and it might even change from time to time.

Whether it's because you love the products, the health-centered mission or want to earn extra income, writing it down is your most important step!

Let's Mark the Calendar

Life is busy, we get it! We all only have 24 hours in the day. And, the absolute beautiful thing about your Jordan Essentials biz is that it's flexible. But the downside of a 'flexible' activity, is it often gets pushed to the side. Let's be intentional with your time to make the most out of your biz, and work it around your schedule!

Here are some top tips for managing your time:

Be Intentional: Take time to plan when you plan to work your biz. Make an appointment on your calendar to work your business each day, and stick to it – even if it is just 20-minutes each day.

Put it on the calendar: Start with blocking out when you CANNOT work your business. Put all things on your calendar - work, holidays, date nights, kids activities, travel time, etc. - and then look for the pockets of time when you CAN work. Circle those and make that your work time.

Don't Cancel on Yourself: Just like any other appointment on your calendar, don't cancel. Stick to the time you've set aside.

Make the Most of Your Time: Prioritize money-making activities over anything else you need to do for your business. Always start there and get that done first!

SET YOUR HOURS:

Step 1: Block off time you are NOT available or is off-limits (family time!) on a weekly basis.

Step 2: Identify when you do have availability to work your business.

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday

I do my best work when:

Set Up Your Social Channels

Social media is a great way to draw in friends, family and followers to learn more. There are many ways to connect with your customers, and the more places you connect, the better you'll build your brand.

Start with any social platforms you're currently using, and then branch out from there.

- Facebook Profile (Make sure your Jordan Essentials posts are PUBLIC so they are shareable and discoverable!)
- Facebook Business Page (You can set up a brand new Facebook Business Page just for your Jordan Essentials business!)

Share a Teaser on Social Media

It's time to start spreading the news all about your new business. You have amazing Jordan Essentials products to share with the world! Your future customers are out there just waiting for you to connect with them!

Let's build up the suspense! You're doing something BIG and you have an opportunity to flaunt it! Here's a few social media posts that you can make to spark curiosity and "tease" what's coming! This is perfect to do before your kit arrives.

Use the big bold solid background on Facebook to share these teasers. Add them to your Instagram and Facebook Stories. Capture their attention with a photo of you showing your excitement!

Announce on Social Media

It's time to make it official! Let's share your new journey with Jordan Essentials on social media! This is a great way to announce your "grand opening" and invite others to learn more. Here's an example of what to share in your announcement post:

Today is the day! Are you ready for my big announcement! I'm so excited to share that I'm officially partnering with an incredible wellness brand with natural, everyday solutions I know you'll love! I'm starting my journey with Jordan Essentials because (add in your why here!). These products are incredible! Here's a few highlights:

- It is all about helping you live healthy, have fun, and reduce stress too!
- Jordan Essentials is the original direct sales magnesium company, blending the purity of essential oils with clean ingredients sourced ethically!
- You'll find everything from lotion bars, deodorants, hand soap, hair care products and even make-up — all exceptional quality and reasonably priced!

Here's the fun part, I'm sharing an unboxing in just a few days and I'll love your support. As a thank you, I might be able to even sneak you a sample. Would you like to check it out? Simply comment YES below and I'll send you the details!

Add a fun photo of you with your Consultant Kit when it arrives or a few of your favorite products.

Announce on Social Media

Be sure to reply thoughtfully to each comment on your post. Then, follow up personally with each person that engages (likes or comments) your post. Invite them to check out your unboxing and your upcoming launch events! In your follow up messages you can say something like:

Hi (name)! Thank you so much for your interest in my new adventure! It means the world to me! I'm unboxing on (when) and (where). Can you tune in?

I saw your comment, (name)! I'd love to include you in my kick off! I'm hosting an online "Pit Stop Party" as I get going! Are you free on (date) and (time)?

I so appreciate your support, (name)! I'm hosting my very first event on (when) and I'll share the whole product line. Would you like an invite?

Keep in mind, you may repeat this process a few times over the next couple of weeks. Each post reaches different followers and we want to share the news with as many as possible!

Personal Connections

As much as we love social media, you'll create the most impact by reaching out individually to those that you are close to on your Launch List worksheet (page 6). Start with those that are closest to you – your family, friends, coworkers and neighbors. They will be so happy to support you!

This step is important because not everyone sees everything you post on social media – and, some are not even spending much time on social media at all. Be sure to personally reach out to as many of your connections as possible to share the news and invite them to follow your journey. A great next step is inviting them to your upcoming “Pit Stop Party” events!

As you make those personal connections, here's some ideas of what to say:

Hi (name)! I know things get lost on social media and I wasn't sure if you saw my big news! I'm partnering with an incredible wellness company, Jordan Essentials. Your support would mean the world to me. Can I send you an invite to my launch?

Hey, hey (name)! The cat is out of the bag! I'm getting started with Jordan Essentials and I couldn't help but to think of you and your family. Would you like to take a peek at what it is all about?

I couldn't wait to tell you, (name)! I'm kicking off my newest entrepreneurial adventure on (date) and I'd love for you to be there! Are you free?

Pick Your Path

At Jordan Essentials, we know there are several paths to build a successful business. The 4 pillars to create a foundation of your business are:

We want you to be successful from Day 1 with Jordan Essentials. Whether you plan to sell through social media, at in-person events, pop-up or vendor events, it is best to make a splash! It's your grand opening! Plus, you'll have a better feel of how you like to sell best!

It is recommended to begin with both an in-person and online launch party to get started. This will give you a strong foundation to hit those big goals you set. It is also a great way to learn more about Jordan Essentials and how you can best serve your customers.

The beauty of parties is that you can host your own – or, you can spoil your host with incredible host rewards. The other benefit of parties is your host unlocks an entirely new network of potential customers for you. They vouch for you and put you in front of their people! This is a great way to build a customer base.

There are several effective party formats. You'll want to try them all and chat with your host to best meet them where their network is likely to engage.

- Virtual Parties: The best part of virtual parties is you can build a network of customers all over the country. Your host and customers are likely already hanging out on social media and can easily engage and participate.
- In-Home Parties: Sharing Jordan Essentials in a customer's living room is a sure thing. When their guests show up, they will experience the products and sales are a sure thing.

SOCIAL SELLING

As social media is continuing to grow, many Jordan Essentials consultants simply share and sell on social media outside of parties. By creating content that draws in followers, you can build relationships and introduce Jordan Essentials. This requires consistency and intentionality. It isn't always the fastest way to grow, but can be highly effective over time.

The best place to begin on social media is on a platform you're already familiar with and you already have connections or followers. For example, if Facebook is your preferred social platform, begin building your brand on Facebook.

Social selling goes beyond just sharing social media posts. It is about genuinely connecting with your followers in direct messages and building a relationship. Once you've built the know-like-trust factor, then you can introduce Jordan Essentials and invite your followers to shop with you.

When you share content on social media, always work toward moving the engagement into a conversation in the 1:1 messages.

PERSON TO PERSON

Sampling is a great way to share Jordan Essentials. Grab the samples inside your Starter Kit and share them with your local contacts or drop them in the mail to those that don't live too close.

JE supports those effects in several ways:

1. Back office single samples. You can purchase samples from our back-office business center. You can use these to have on hand, pass out to potential customers, or mail to a customer yourself.
2. Back office Sample Sets. JE sends samples for you. There are two very affordable options in your back office. We can send a sample to a customer for you. These are preset sample collections. Simply order and choose where you want us to send it. The JE sample sets have a colorful highlight mailer of products and either body care, wellness, or face care products.
3. You can make samples. You can purchase full-size products and make your own samples. JE is not responsible for those products and all liability and materials are the responsibility of the Jordie.
4. Full-size products. This is the traditional way to share and sample your products. At a Spa Bar in a home, on the go, or vendor event you can simply give someone a pump, scoop, or dollop of your products right into their hands to try!

When you give a sample be sure you get a name and number to follow up with. Handing out samples and telling them they can contact you is not a healthy option for your investment. You simply ask if they would like a sample and how you can follow up with them after they receive it.

Always get a good phone number – even have them text you right on the spot – and ask if they can connect with you on FB. Have a “policy” – No name or number, no samples!

Pick Your Path

VENDOR EVENTS

Jordan Essentials products are perfect for in-person vendor and pop up events. You can stock up on popular items and bring them to events to sample and share products in your local area. Look for events taking place in your neighborhood. Festivals and community events are a great place to showcase Jordan Essentials. Often you can find great events hosted by schools or churches, as well.

Not only are sales great at vendor events, but it's also a great place to collect leads for future customers, hosts and teammates. Gathering contact information from those that stop by your booth will pay off!

INVENTORY

If you are able to invest in inventory, you'll have the most success at vendor events. This allows customers to easily sample and shop. The best selling items for vendor events include lotion bars and Magnesium Lotion.

If you don't have an item on-hand, you can also offer samples and/or place an order for the customer at the event.

How Long Can I Keep Parties Open?

Parties are one of the four pillars of building your business. We suggest you do not keep parties open longer than 2 weeks. Your host will be excited to choice her rewards and begin enjoying the products she has earned. Be mindful that the specials such as the Customer Special and Host Special will be the items offered on the date the party closes.

Do My Customers’ Party Orders Ship Right Away?

Yes! This is a great perk for customers. There is no need to wait for a party to close for guest orders to ship. When customers shop the party link on the website, as soon as they complete their order payment, it will automatically be added to the party total and be ready for processing. Orders ship within 3-5 days.

Orders entered by the consultant on the party portal also will ship as soon as the order is paid for. If you are collecting payments directly from customers, as soon as you make the final payment, orders will be considered ready for processing and shipping.
